Preslie Bradshaw has taken over the Zoo Preschool and will be moving it to her grandfather Bill Garrett's place of business on 73 North Center. The Council does not have any problem with it and told the Clerk to issue her a business license.

Josh Caldwell presented the Council members with a plan for his Eagle Scout service project that he wants to do for the town. His proposal is for a permanent BBQ at the park next to the pavilion. Josh would like to provide the visitors of the park a permanent option for cooking meals and avoid the need to bring or transport portable barbeques. He would like to use the same stone that had been used for the monument and water fountain at the park. Josh would like to propose that the grill be put on the east side of the pavilion across from the monument so that it will be in the shade for the afternoon and evenings. He is hoping that the cost is minimal with supplies and labor be donated by people in the community. The Council likes the project and has given Josh the permission to go ahead with his project. The Council would like Kevin Carter and Brandon Davis to be notified and help with the placement of the grill at the park. There is one concern of an underground power line where Josh would like the grill placed.

Tommy Woolf would like to ask the council if they would donate to the 4-H livestock program this year. Mayor Dotson explained that the Town cannot make donations without a service project. If the Minersville 4-H kids would be willing to do a service project of picking up garbage around the town, concentration especially on Center Street the Town would be willing to pay them $250.00, Tommy and Henry Woolf accepted the service project and will arrange with the group to start as soon as possible. Mayor Dotson and the Council members wished them luck at the livestock show.

Porter Albrecht and his father met with Mayor Ward Dotson last Tuesday night up at the Monument to review his completed Eagle Scout project. Mayor Dotson reported that he has completed the project and it looked very nice. He replaced all of the broken wood trellis with black rod iron fencing. It should last for many years.
